

Cisco moves to Innovation Hub

CISCO Systems has moved its Pretoria office into the Innovation Hub science park. The move will enable Cisco to collaborate with academics, researchers, government and other technology companies to develop technologies relevant for Africa.